

TIGERS WON FROM THE U. OF N. FIVE

Cornhuskers Basketball Team Defeated by Score of 26 to 24.

GAME WAS CLOSELY FOUGHT

To-night the Team Will Meet the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan.

The University of Missouri basketball team defeated the University of Nebraska five by a score of 26 to 24 in Lincoln, Neb., last night. The game was fought closely throughout. The Tigers will play the team from the Kansas Agricultural College, at Manhattan, Kan., tonight. Friday night they will play the William Jewell College team at Liberty, Mo.

The team started on its annual trip last Sunday morning. Because traffic on the Wabash was delayed Saturday, the team was unable to leave as was scheduled. The initial game with Ames was not played. The squad went direct to Lincoln. Wednesday and Thursday nights they will play the University of Kansas team at Lawrence. These men, with the coach, composed the squad: Ristine, Henley, Gardner, Burrus, Cohen, Bernet, Wilder, Stava and Smith.

In two rough games on the University court, the Tiger team defeated the team from the Missouri School of Mines by the scores of 42 to 14 and 49 to 22 last Friday and Saturday nights. The Tigers showed good form and the Rolla team was outclassed.

DR. OSLER OF OXFORD SENDS RARE BOOK

A Copy of "De Humani Corporis Fabrica" Presented Medical School.

Dr. William Osler, regius professor of medicine in Oxford University, has presented to the Department of Medicine of the University of Missouri a copy of the first edition of the "De Humani Corporis Fabrica," printed in 1543, which Dr. Osler calls the foundation of modern medicine.

"I send this volume to the Medical School of the University of Missouri in recognition of the good work it has done," is part of the inscription written in the book by the donor. The book was presented through Dr. Sidney Calvert of the faculty of the Department of Medicine, who is a former pupil of Dr. Osler.

CURTIS B. ROLLINS IS NEW CURATOR

Gov. Hadley Names Columbia Man as Successor to G. B. Dorsey.

Gov. Hadley has announced the appointment of Curtis Burnham Rollins of Columbia as curator of the University of Missouri, to succeed George B. Dorsey of Columbia. Mr. Dorsey had been named by Gov. Folk to succeed Walter Williams, resigned. Under Gov. Hadley's appointment Mr. Rollins' term expires Jan. 1, 1911. Mr. Rollins has agreed to accept the appointment.

Mr. Rollins, a son of the late Major James S. Rollins, the "father of the University," is of a distinguished family, the history of which is intimately interwoven with the history of the University, of the town of Columbia and of the state of Missouri. He was graduated from the University, receiving the degree of A. B. in 1874 and of LL. B. in 1876.

He is intelligently interested in education and has taken honorable and useful part in public affairs. His large knowledge of the University, disinterestedness, public spirit and business ability will make him a most efficient member of the University's governing body.

STUDENTS TOO EAGER FOR A VACATION TRIP

Faculty Has Placed Several Hundred on Probation.

Several hundred students in the University of Missouri have been put on probation by the University authorities because they went home Christmas before school was dismissed for the holidays. The action also applies to all students who returned to school after the session had begun. All who are on probation have been informed that one more unexplained absence will be sufficient grounds for the suspension of the student from the University. The action on the part of the faculty was taken to discourage the practice of students going home before the holidays are announced officially by the President of the University.

Smoker for Prof. Bent.

More than forty students of the Department of Journalism attended the smoker given in honor of Silas Bent, assistant professor of Journalism, who resigned at the end of the first semester to return to active newspaper work on the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The smoker was held at the Sigma Chi house.

Prof. Hibbard Arrives.

Prof. H. Wade Hibbard, formerly of Cornell University, has arrived in Columbia with his family. He will succeed A. M. Greene, who resigned a year ago, as professor of Mechanical Engineering.

"GLEE CLUB MUSIC IS NOT ESTHETIC"

College Misses Shouldn't Hear it, Says T. Carl Whitmer.

DISLIKES "MIXED" PROGRAMS

But He Had No Objection to This Year's Concert in Particular.

T. Carl Whitmer, director of the School of Music at Stephens College, says that Glee Club music is not up to the classical standard and therefore college girls should not be encouraged to hear it.

The young women of Stephens College were not present at the concert given by the University of Missouri Glee Club last Saturday evening. It has never been the custom for the students of Stephens College to attend Glee Club concerts, so the report that there was an objection to this particular concert is denied by Mr. Whitmer. "In fact," he said, "I have not seen the program for this year."

"Most of the colleges for women in Missouri are united on the subject of good music, a subject with them most vitally educational," Mr. Whitmer added. "There is no existent feeling of antagonism to any who think it advisable to 'mix' programs; only they do not care to give their support to concerts other than those which represent as a whole superior esthetic selection."

In this issue of the Missourian will be found announcements of new courses to be offered in the various departments of the University of Missouri the second semester. It is suggested that the perusal of these announcements may be helpful, especially to the new students.

Because the students in the Department of Journalism are busy this week in the work of enrollment there will be no more issues of the Missourian this week. The next issue will be Monday, Feb. 8.

THIRD ANNUAL ART EXHIBIT OPENS

Paintings by Noted Artists in the Collection Here This Month.

The third annual exhibit of oil paintings under the auspices of the Art Lovers' Guild opened last evening on the third floor of Academic Hall. Child Hassan of New York is represented by ten canvases. Four of the pictures, by Corot, Daubigny, Cazin and Fritz Thaulow, are from the New York gallery of former Senator W. A. Clarke. The St. Louis Museum of Fine Arts has contributed Tarbell's "Preparing for the Matinee," one of the most talked of paintings shown in this country at the large exhibits last year. A portrait of Miss Evelyn Willis of Columbia, by Werner of Berlin, excited the admiration of those at the opening. The exhibit will continue a month.

WILLIAMS ON JOURNALISM

Talks About Newspaper by the Dean in Topeka and Kansas City.

Walter Williams, dean of the Department of Journalism in the University of Missouri, will return tomorrow from Kansas City and Topeka, Kan., where he gave a series of addresses. Saturday night Mr. Williams talked at the annual English dinner of the University Club of Kansas City.

Last Monday night Mr. Williams spoke on "The Missouri School of Journalism" before the Kansas Press Association in Topeka. Tonight Mr. Williams will again talk on the "Missouri School of Journalism" before the executive committee of the National Editorial association at a meeting to be held in Kansas City.

Mid-Year Convocation.

The mid-year convocation of the University of Missouri will be held in the auditorium Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. President A. Ross Hill will deliver an address, opening the half-year term.

At the Game.

SIX SENIOR LAWS TO NEGROES' RESCUE

A Square Deal for Black Men the Object of the Students.

IN POLICE COURT EACH DAY

Disciples of Blackstone Will Dine on Fried Chicken, Unkind Friends Say.

All hail the Senior Lawyers, protectors of wronged mankind!

Six Seniors in the Law Department of the University of Missouri plan to rescue the poor, oppressed negroes of Columbia. They have decided that the "colored" youth, who "shoots craps" in the alley and is caught by the vigilant Columbia policeman, does not get a square deal when he is arraigned in police court the next morning; also that when "Sam Washington" and "George Lincoln" have one of their regular "scups" or when "Rastus Johnson" has a noisy altercation with "Miss Angelina" that the hard-hearted police judge does not do the right thing. To insure the negroes who are unlucky enough to come under the strong arm of the law, a square deal, these kind-hearted Senior Law students have formed a committee to defend all negroes arraigned before police court on such trivial offenses.

As to how successful the Senior disciples of Blackstone will be in their benevolent missionary work before the court of Judge Simmons, is not certain. Some of their friends say that they are not actuated in the work by any feeling of pity for the negroes but are merely seeking some practical work. Others say that they are merely having fun in getting the negroes to tell them their troubles. And others assert that the Seniors will probably be dining on fried chicken in a short time.

Those who have enrolled in the benevolent movement toward the negroes are: E. W. Porter, J. E. Moore, H. G. Hunt, W. W. Wright, D. H. Hoffman and R. G. Lyda.

COLUMBIA MAY HAVE A CONVENTION HALL

The Elks Expect to Start a Fund by Giving a Minstrel Show.

The Elks Club of Columbia will give a minstrel show in the Auditorium of the University of Missouri in February. The proceeds of the show will be devoted to starting a fund to build a convention hall in Columbia. President Hill of the University gave his consent to the use of the Auditorium.

FRANK L. MARTIN HERE

Kansas City Star Man Enters Journalism Faculty.

Frank L. Martin, recently appointed to succeed Silas Bent, resigned, as assistant professor in the Department of Journalism, is here to begin his new duties with the opening of the second semester. Mr. Martin, with his wife and baby daughter, will occupy the cottage on Lowry street vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Bent.

Mr. Martin is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and has had a varied experience in newspaper work. He was assistant city editor of the Kansas City Star when he accepted the appointment here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bent departed Wednesday night for St. Louis, where Mr. Bent will resume work on the Post-Dispatch as assistant city editor.

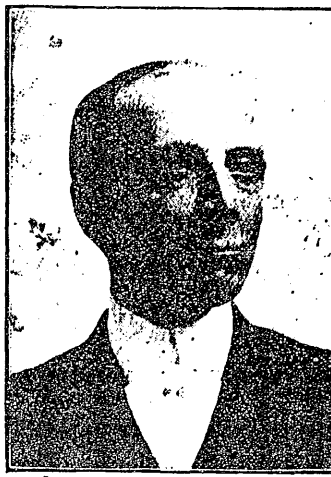

STUDENTS ARE TOO FREE

Leaven of Military Training Needed, Col. H. L. Scott Believes.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—College students in this country have too much liberty, according to Col. H. L. Scott, commandant of West Point. In an address Colonel Scott said:

"The system is based largely on the German system without regard for the moral training of the student. This is going too far in the direction of liberality. The German student, as a rule, has had a military training earlier and habits and character already have been formed. The American boy, who has not had such formative training, should have the character formed for him and not be left to his individual caprice. The nation greatly needs larger leaven of military discipline."

AUTHOR OF UNIQUE PRAYER-MEETING PLAN

THE REV. C. M. BISHOP.

CALIFORNIA EDITOR ENTERS UNIVERSITY

F. W. Cooke, 49 Years Old, New Student in School of Journalism.

California has been added to the roster of states represented in the Department of Journalism at the University of Missouri. The student from the Golden State is F. W. Cooke, until recently editor of the Healdsburg Tribune of Healdsburg, Cal.

Cooke read about the department in the National Printer Journalist. The idea appealed to him, and after communicating with Dean Williams, he sold his paper and came to Columbia with his wife and 7-year-old boy. He intends to take the four-year course.

Cooke has been in the newspaper business since his fifteenth year, chiefly in the mechanical departments. He worked eleven years in the composing room of the San Francisco Alta, the pioneer paper of that city. For the last four years he was foreman of the composing room.

He remembers the time when William Randolph Hearst's San Francisco Examiner was printed on the Alta press. The Examiner at that time was an evening paper owned by Senator Hearst. When the senator gave it to his son, the latter changed it into a morning paper. While awaiting the arrival of presses from the east, the Examiner was printed on the Alta press, which was the only one available. In those days the Examiner was a small struggling paper, while today the Alta has ceased to exist.

Although 49 years old, Cooke is glad of the opportunity to study practical journalism at the University of Missouri. He says that the school has attracted wide attention among newspaper men on the coast. He has been a member of the California Press Association several years.

J. F. GMEICH IS NOW LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

The Contest in Missouri Ended with His Inauguration Today.

By United Press. JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 2.—The fight over the lieutenant governorship in Missouri was ended today by the inauguration of Jacob F. Gmelich, Republican.

SKELETON TO BE AT DANCE

Some Wierd Touches for Department of Medicine Dance.

Just to make it a little weird tonight at the second annual ball given by the Department of Medicine of the University of Missouri, in the medical building, a skeleton with one hand outstretched will greet the guests. The anatomy room on the second floor will be used for dancing. Black paper skulls have been pasted on the white-cushioned windows to produce a "ghostly effect" from within and without. Around the walls of the room also will be skulls and cross bones.

Lehmann's Address in Book.

The address at the University of Missouri June 6, 1906, by Frederick Lehmann, of St. Louis, is included in the new volume, "The Oratory of the South," issued by a Washington publishing house. The volume also includes orations by Champ Clark, David A. DeArmond, Judge John F. Phillips and the late Senator Vest.

FOOD IN BASKETS AT PRAYER SERVICE

The Rev. C. M. Bishop Has a Plan to Increase Attendance.

AN AID TO BUSINESS MEN

Hereafter it Will Not Be Necessary for Worshippers to Go Home First.

What the Rev. C. M. Bishop of the Columbia Methodist church believes to be an innovation here, was introduced by him at the regular weekly prayer meeting last Wednesday night. A luncheon, prepared by the members to which all visitors were invited, was served. The attendance at the first luncheon-prayer meeting was large.

In discussing the idea Mr. Bishop said the chief aim of the luncheon was to enable Columbia business men who live far out of town, to attend the prayer meetings without going home for supper.

"I believe in this way more interest will be taken in the prayer meetings," said Mr. Bishop. From last Wednesday's results I believe that it will be necessary soon to provide additional quarters.

The members prepare the luncheon on the basket picnic plan. Each takes a special delicacy to the parlors of the church. Mr. Bishop modestly disclaims credit of being the originator of the idea. He says that at present a St. Louis church is trying the plan and that it is not really a "newfangled" idea. To prove this he cited this quotation from the Acts:

"And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread and in prayers." Acts 3:42.

BELLS ANNOUNCE THE COAL MAN'S COMING

The Novel Way of Columbia Dealers to Remind Their Patrons.

Some coal dealers in Columbia are using sleigh bells on their delivery wagons as a cheering way to announce their approach. The tinkle of the bells the dealers says, serve in warm weather to cheer the despondent coal trust and in winter they remind the absent minded man that his wife told him to order a ton of coal.

RULING ON NEW GRADES

"I" Will Not Prevent Graduation of Engineers.

The grade "I" will not prevent students in the Department of Engineering from completing the course, provided they have enough accumulated credits to discount the loss caused by the "I," according to the action taken by the faculty of the department Saturday. If a student makes an "I" or better in all of the required subjects and has the necessary total number of hours, he will be graduated.

That clause in the new grading system which provides that for the grade "E" the student will receive 30 per cent additional credit, for an "S" 10 per cent additional, for an "M" the normal amount, for an "I" 20 per cent less than the normal, and for an "F" no credit was left for the departments to act on separately. The clause was approved by the engineering faculty Saturday.

Grant City Students as Editors.

The High Breeze is a neat paper published weekly by the students of the Grant City High School. The paper has four pages, eleven by fourteen inches, and contains literary and class notes about the high school. It is under the direction of the superintendent, but the work of writing and printing is done by the students.

Eight Here From Quincy, Ill.

Harry C. Beatty of Quincy, Ill., has entered the University of Missouri for a special course in the Department of Engineering. There are now eight students from Quincy, Ill., and surrounding country in the University of Missouri. It is the largest delegation from any city outside of the state.

Head of the New York Life, Coming. Darwin P. Kingsley of New York, president of the New York Life Insurance company, will speak at the University of Missouri assembly Tuesday morning, February 16, on "Insurance Supervision and National Ideals."
